TO BE SOLD,

THREE or four lots of about 30 or 40 acres each, more or less as may suit a purchaser. On each of which there is a good situation for a house—viz. one on the river Delaware, suitable either for a gentleman's seat, or for a person who might wish to engage in the lumber business having a good landing. One commanding a good view of the river from the highest ground between the Pennypack and Poquessin creeks; and another on the Bristol Road. Enquire of Mr. Gilpin near the 11 mile stone on the said road.

ALSO FOUR LOTS,

Of about 10 acres each with good situations for building; one of which is suitable for a tan-yard, and has a small stone house and a young bearing orchard on it, on the Newtown road near Snider's mill about 10 miles from Philadelphia, and one other lot of about 30 acres on the Pennypack.—Enquire of Jonathan Clift who lives on the premises or of Mr. Gilpin.

Possession will be given in the spring, but building materials may be collected sooner.

February 12.

TO THE PATRONAGE OF
A liberal and enlightened Community
IS SUBMITTED
THE PROSPECTUS
OF
A New Daily Paper,
TO BE PUBLISHED UNDER THE TITLE OF THE OBSERVER,
AND
Daily Repository of useful Information.

IT will doubtless be deemed a hazardous undertaking to present to the public eye proposals for a new Gazette, when so many are already in possession of the public patronage.

News-papers so much more generally diffused throughout America than perhaps any other portion of the globe, may become either engines of mischief or the implements of usefulness—they disseminate good, or scatter poison, among thousands; and although it may be presumptuous in the Editor of that now proposed to expect that its utility will be great, yet he may be admitted to declare, that it shall not willingly be made the means of doing evil

His endeavors will be applied to render The Observer in some degree conducive to the attainment of knowledge as well as to the communication of news—to enlighten the understanding—to improve the morals—to beget, or to confirm, a reverence for the sacred principles of Christianity.

For this purpose it is intended—
To furnish the most recent foreign and domestic intelligence;
To give useful Prices Current at home and abroad, and other commercial information;
To select from literary productions such portions as may gratify taste and induce improvement;
To unfold and enforce sound and just views of government:
To aid the great interests of piety and morality.
To present occasionally—
Improvements in the arts and sciences—in agriculture and domestic economy;
Proceedings of the General and State Legislatures;
Reports of the Heads of Departments, and of interesting cases adjudged in the several courts of the United States, &c.
Reviews of foreign and domestic literature;
Anecdotes and characters of distinguished personages;
Statistical tables;
Meteorological observations;
Appointments;
Marriages, Births, Deaths.

With these proposals the subscriber diffidently submits himself to the public. He is well aware of the importance and magnitude of the undertaking Solicitous for the fate of his native land, and viewing with anxious fears and hopes the success of a government created by the joint exertions of wisdom and virtue, and conducted with sound policy and genuine patriotism, he feels himself sincerely interested in promoting such measures and principles as he believes essential to public happiness and national prosperity.

CONDITIONS.

I. The Observer shall be printed with a neat type, and on paper of equal size and quality with the present Philadelphia daily papers.

II. It shall be published every evening, and regularly sent to the houses of the city subscribers—To others it will be forwarded according to their respective instructions.

III. The price will be Eight Dollars per annum to those who reside in the city—and Nine Dollars to all others. The additional dollar is to defray the expence of enclosing and directing their papers

IV. One half of the price to be paid at the time of subscribing, and the other half at the expiration of twelve months from the publication of the first number. The succeeding payments to be half yearly.

V. Advertisements that do not exceed in length the breadth of the column will be 67 cents for the first, and 33 cents for every additional insertion. Those of greater length will be charged in the same proportion.

Removal of Medicines.

THOMAS CLAYTON

RESPECTFULLY informs his friends and the public in general, that he has remov'd the whole Stock in trade of the late firm of J. J. MALCOM & co. druggist's to sign of Fothergills Golden Head, No. 97 South Second Street, directly opposite to the City Tavern, where the business in all its branches will be conducted as heretofore in conjunction with WILLIAM LEHMAN, under the firm of WILLIAM LEHMAN & Co.

A MISTAKE.

AS Mr. Thomas Clayton, in his advertisement above, has indirectly asserted that I have declined business, I feel it my duty to inform my friends and the public, that I continue the Drug and Apothecary Business, as usual, at the old stand, sign of Fothergill's golden head, No. 26, south Second street, a little below opposite Black Horse Alley, where may be had, constantly, every article in the line. JOHN J. MALCOM.

MEDICINE CHESTS,
For shipping, with plain approved directions, put up at an hour's notice.

March 7.

NO RISK!
To Merchants, Store Keepers and Tradesmen in general, &c.

[You will oblige me by reading this advertisement throughout]

I RESPECTFULLY invite you either to the City Tavern, Hardy's Hotel, Francis' Hotel, the Indian Queen, Dunwoody's Tavern, the Franklin's Head, or to the George, to examine a specimen of Rowlett's Tables of Discount or Interest, on every Dollar, from 1 to 2,000; on every ten, from 2000 to 2500; on every fifty from 2500 to 3000; and on every five hundred from 3000 to 5000; from one day to 64 days inclusive, at six per cent. comprising in the whole, upwards of one hundred and thirty two thousand one hundred and fifty calculations of discount; all performed according to the equitable principles of the Banks, and as practised between individuals throughout the United States; being a perfect standard on the subject: with notes, shewing how to use the tables at five, seven and eight per cent. reckoning either 360 or 365 days to the year, and the mode of calculation on cents; to which is added, the principles of computation of the various exchanges between each State respectively, and between these and London and Paris, at different rates of exchange.

The work is dedicated, by permission, to the President and Directors of the Bank of North America, and has already received the patronage of JOHN ADAMS, President of the United States; of THOMAS JEFFERSON, Vice President of the United States and President of the Senate; of a large number of the Senators and Members of the House of Representatives of the United States; and of the Presidents and Directors of the different Banks unanimously:—a list of the whole is printed and attached to the specimen book.

The preface to the specimen explains, among other matters, the methods to be pursued to render the work perfectly accurate—and gentlemen who will reflect on those methods will agree in the fact. Every one will acknowledge the arduousness of the undertaking.

The expences, independent of any compensation for my trouble, will require a sum between three and four thousand dollars, which is two much to hazard—all must depend therefore upon a general subscription; for unless fifteen hundred subscribers are obtained, it would certainly be imprudent to execute the work.

Subscribers can run no risk, as the book (which will be quarto, from 200 to 225 pages, or more—price two dollars) is not to be paid for until delivered rigorously conformable to my engagements expressed in the conditions affixed to the specimen, which consists of six detached pages of the work.

A table of all the post towns in the United States, and some other useful information (not expressed in the title) will follow the computations of exchanges between this country and England and France; and provided, gentlemen, that a sufficient number of you come forward and subscribe, a further addition shall be made of the coins and money of account of the principal maritime trading places in Russia, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Prussia, Poland, Germany, Holland, Flanders, Spain, Portugal, Italy, and in several of the windward and leeward West India Islands, the whole reduced to dollars and cents; and the mode of computing the exchange with those places explained; also, a large sheet table of calculations at compound interest at 6 per cent. to which the notes for 5, 7 and 8 per cent will apply—the tables used in banks for the determination of the value of gold; and the interest for each month from one to twelve months, which will make the work still more acceptable to persons living in the country as well as in town; and upon the whole, I am confident, that this book will be found as generally useful and convenient as any matter of fact-performance that ever entered a counting house or store.

It is not sufficient that an individual (considering himself but one) shall conclude, instead of subscribing, to purchase the book when published, as some of the members of the House of Representatives of the United States have done; for, however much I am obliged to these, the loss of many ONES' subscriptions may lose me the race, and the book may never be published. I repeat, that nothing is to be paid in advance,

And am, very respectfully,
Gentlemen,
Your humble servant,
JOHN ROWLETT,
Accomptant Bank North America.

Postscript.—Gentlemen who have business at either of the Banks, or at the Philadelphia Library, will have an opportunity of subscribing there, as well as at the Taverns, &c. before mentioned.

Copy right secured according to act of Congress.

Foreign Intelligence.

NEW CONSTITUTION
OF
The French Republic.

FROM AN OFFICIAL COPY.

CHAPTER I.

Art. 1. The French Republic is one and indivisible.

Its European territory is distributed into departments and communal districts.

2. Every man born and resident in France and of the age of 21 years, who has inscribed his name in the civic register of his communal district, and afterwards remained a year on the territory of the French Republic, is a French citizen.

3. A foreigner becomes a French citizen who after having attained the age of 21 years, and declared his intention of fixing his residence in France, and has resided there for 10 successive years.

4. The title of French Citizen is forfeited—

By naturalization in a foreign country.

By accepting any office or pension from a foreign government.

By affiliation with any foreign corporation which supposes distinctions of birth.

By condemnation to corporal or infamous punishments.

5. The exercise of the rights of a French citizen is suspended by a bankruptcy, or by a total or partial succession to the property of an insolvent.

By a state of hired servitude, either attached to the service of the person or the family.

By a state of judicial interdiction, accusation, or contumacy.

6. In order to exercise the rights of citizenship they must have been acquired by being domiciliated by a year's residence, and not forfeited by a year's absence.

7. The citizens of every communal district shall appoint by their suffrages, those whom they think most worthy of conducting the public affairs. There shall be a list of confidence, containing a number of names equal to a tenth of the number of citizens possessing the right of suffrage. From this first communal list the public functionaries of districts shall be taken.

8. The citizens comprized in the communalists of a department shall also appoint a tenth of their number. These shall constitute a second list called the department list, from which the public functionaries of each department shall be taken.

9. The citizens included in the departmental list shall also appoint a tenth of their number; this 3d list shall consist of the citizens of each department, eligible to public national functions.

10. The citizens who shall have a right of co operating in the formation of any of the lists mentioned in the three preceding articles, shall every third year be called upon to exercise the power of replacing those who shall have died, or absented themselves for any other cause than the exercise of a public function.

11. They may also withdraw from the lists those whom they shall not judge proper to continue, and replace them by other citizens in whom they may have greater confidence.

12. No one shall be erased from the lists, otherwise than by the votes of the decisive majority of the citizens, having the right of co-operating in their formation.

13. No one shall be erased from the list of those eligible to public functions merely because his name may have been struck out of a list of an inferior or superior degree.

14. The appointment to the list of eligibles is only necessary with regard to public functions, for which that condition is expresly required by the constitution or by the law. All the lists of the eligibles shall be formed in the course of the 9th year.

CHAPTER 2.

15. The conservatory senate shall be composed of 80 members, of 40 years of age at least, to be irremovable during life.

For the formation of the senate, there shall be nominated in the first instance, 60 members—this number shall be increased to 62 in the course of the 8th year, to 64 in the 9th year, and shall be gradually encreased to 80 by the addition of two members in each of the ten first years.

16. The nomination to the office of senate shall be by the senate, who shall make choice out of these candidates presented to them: the first by the legislative body, the second by the tribunate, and the third by the chief consul.

17. The chief consul upon quitting his office, either by the expiration of his functions, or by resignation, necessarily, and as a matter of right, becomes a senator.

The two other Consuls, during the month which follows the expiration of their functions, may take their seats in the senate, but are not obliged to exercise that privilege.

They lose it altogether, if they quit their consular functios by resignations.

18. A senator is always ineligible to any other public function.

19. All the lists made in the departments by virtue of the 9th article, shall be addressed to the senate. They shall compose the national list.

20. From this list shall be elected the legislators, the tribunes, the consuls, the judges of cassation, and the Commissaires a la Responsibilite.

21. They shall confirm or annul every act referred to them as unconstitutional by their tribunate, or the government; the lists of the eligibles shall be included among these acts.

22. The revenues of national domains, the terms of which are expired, shall be liable to the expences of the senate. The annual salary of each of its members shall be paid out of these revenues It shall be equal to a 20th of that of the chief consul.

24. The sittings of the senate are not public.

24. Citizen Sieyes and Roger Ducos, the two consuls who are to go out of office, shall be nominated members of the conservatory senate; they shall unite with the second and third consuls nominated by the present one. These four citizens shall appoint the majority of the senate, which shall afterwards complete itself, and proceed to the elections entrusted to its direction.

CHAPTER III.

Of the Legislative Power.

25. No new law shall be promulgated, unless the plan shall have been proposed by the government, communicated to the tribunate and decreed by the Legislative Body.

26. The plans which the government may propose shall be drawn up under different heads. In every case in which such plans shall be discussed, the government may withdraw them, and present them again in a modified state.

27. The tribunate is to be composed of 100 members of 26 years of age at least; they shall be renewed by fifths every year, and infinitely re-eligible while they remain upon the national list.

28. The tribunate shall discuss the plans of every law that may be proposed; it shall vote for the adoption or rejection of them.

It shall send three orators taken from its body, by whom the motives of its votes with respect to each of the plans, shall be stated and supported before the legislative body.

It shall refer to the senate, but for the cause of inconstitutionality only, the list of the eligibles, the acts of the legislative body and those of the government.

29. It shall express its opinion as to the laws made or to be made, the abuses to be corrected, the ameliorations to be attempted, in every part of the public administrations, but never relative to the civil or criminal affairs referred to the tribunals.

The opinions it shall give, by virtue of the present article, are to be followed by no necessary consequences; they compel no constituted authority to come to any deliberation.

30. When the tribunate adjourn it may appoint a committee from ten to fifteen members, charged to convoke it, if it shall be deemed necessary.

31. The legislative body shall be composed of 300 members, of 30 years of age at the least;—they shall be renewed by fifths every year. There ought always to be one citizen, at least, of each department of the republic present.

32. A member who goes out of the legislative body cannot re-enter till after the interval of a year—but he may be immediately elected to any other public function, including that of tribune, provided he is in other respects eligible.

33. The sitting of the legislative body shall commence every year on the first Frimaire, and shall continue only four months—it may be extraordinarily convoked during the other eight by the government.

34. The legislative body enacts the laws by determining by secret scrutiny, and without any discussion on the part of its members upon the plans of the law debated before it, by the orators of the tribunate and the government.

35. The sittings of the tribunate and of the legislative body, shall be public—the number of strangers in either of them not to exceed 200.

36. The annual salary of a tribune shall be 15,000 francs, that of a legislative 10,000 francs.

37. Every decree of the legislative body, shall the 10th day after it be made, be promulgated by the chief consul, unless in the mean time it is referred to the senate, on the ground of inconstitutionality. Such reference cannot be made with regard to laws that have been promulgated.

38. The first renewal of the legislative body and of the tribunate shall not take place till the 10th year.

CHAPTER IV.

Of the Government.

39. The government is entrusted to three consuls appointed for ten years, and indefinitely re-eligible. Each of them is to be elected individually with the distinct quality of chief, second, or third consul.—The first time the third consul shall only be named for five years.

For the present time gen. Buonaparte is appointed chief consul: Citizen Cambaseres, now minister of Justice, second consul; and citizen Lebrun, member of the committee of ancients, third consul.

40. The chief consul has particular functions and attributes, which, when he is exercising, he may be temporarilly supplied by one of his colleagues.

41. The chief consul is to promulgate the laws; he is to name and revoke at pleasure the members of the council of state; the ministers, ambassadors, and other principal foreign agents, the officers of the army by land and sea, the members of local administration and the commissioners of the government at the tribunals. He is to appoint all judges criminal and civil, as well as justices of peace, and the judges of cassation, without the power of afterwards revoking them.

42. In the other acts of the government, the second and third consuls are to have a consumative voice; they are to sign the register of the acts, in order to manifest that they were present; and if they please, they may countersign their opinions; after which the determination of the chief consul shall follow.

43. The salary of the chief consul shall be 500,000 francs* for the 8th year. The salary of the other two consuls shall be equal to three tenths of that of the first.

44. The government is to propose the laws, and to make the necessary regulations to ensure their execution.

45. The government is to direct the receipts and expences of the state, conformable to the annual law, which determines the amount of each; it shall superintend the coinage of money, of which the law alone shall order the issue, fix the value, the weight, and the impression.

46. When the government is informed of any conspiracies against the state, it may issue orders to arrest and bring before them the persons who are suspected as the authors or accomplices; but if within ten days after such arrest, they are not set at liberty or brought to trial, it shall be considered, on the part of the minister signing the order as an act of arbitrary detention.

47. The government is to superintend the internal safety and external defence of the state; it is to distribute the forces by sea and land, and regulate the direction of them.

48. The national guard on duty is subject to the regulations of the public administration. The national guard not on duty is only subject to the law.

49. The government is to manage political relations abroad, to conduct negociation, to make preliminary stipulations, to sign and conclude all treaties of peace, alliances, truce, neutrality, commerce, and other conventions.

50. Declarations of war and treaties of peace; alliance, and commerce, are to be proposed, discussed, decreed, and promulgated in the same manner as laws.

Only the discussions and deliberations relative to these objects, as well in the tribunate as in the legislative body, are to be in a secret committee, if the government desires it.

51. The secret article of a treaty cannot be destructive of the public articles.

52. Under the direction of the consuls, the council of state is charged with the drawing up of the plans of the laws and the regulations of the public administration, and to resolve such difficulties as may occur in all administrative matters.

53. It is from among the members of the council of state that the orators are to be selected, who shall be appointed to appear in the name of the government before the legislative body.—There are never to be any more than three of these orators sent to support the same plan of a law.

54. The ministers are to procure the execution of the laws, and the regulations of the public administration.

55. No act of the government can have effect till it is signed by a minister.

56. One of the ministers is specially charged with the administration of the public treasury.—He is to verify the receipts, direct the application of the funds, and the payments authorised by law. He is not to be at liberty to pay any thing, except by virtue, first of a law, and only to the extent of the funds for defraying those expences such law has determined upon. 2dly, by a decree of the government—3dly, by an order signed by a minister.

57. The detained accounts of every minister, signed and certified by him, are to be made public.

58. The government can only elect or retain as counsellors of state or ministers, such citizens whose names are inscribed in the national list.

59. The local administrations established, whether for each communal district, or for the more extended portions of territory, are subordinate to the ministers. No one can become or remain a member of these administrations unless he is entered in one of the lists mentioned in the 7th and 8th article.

CHAPTER V.

Of the Tribunal.

60 Every communal arrondissement shall have one or more justices of the peace, elected immediately from among the citizens, for three years.

Their principal duty consists in reconciling the parties applying to them, and in case of nonconciliation, to decide their dispute by arbitrators.

61. In civil matters there are tribunals of first instance and tribunals of appeal. The law determines the organization of the one and the other; their competence and territory forming the jurisdiction of each.

62. In cases of crimes, to which are annexed a corporal or infamous punishment, a first jury admits or rejects the charge. If it be admitted, a second jury pronounces on the fact, and the judges composing a criminal tribunal apply the punishment. Their judgment is without appeal.

63. The function of public accuser to a criminal tribunal is filled by the commissioner of government.

64. The crimes which do not amount to corporal or infamous punishment are tried before the tribunals of correctional police, saving an appeal to the criminal tribunals.

65. There is for the whole Republic a tribunal of cassation which pronounces on appeals against judgments in the dernier resort, given by the tribunals in cases referred from one tribunal to another on account of lawful suspicion, or the public safety, upon exceptions taken by the party against the whole tribunal.

66. The tribunal of cassation does not inquire into the merits, but it reverses the judgment given on proceedings in which form is violated, or which contain something contrary to the expressed law, but sends the case back to be tried on the merits by the tribunal, which has cognizance of them.

67. The judges who constitute the tribunals of first instance, and the commissioners of government established at the tribunals, are taken from the communal or departmental list.

The judges forming the tribunals of appeal, and the commissioners placed with them, are taken from the departmental list.

The judges composing the tribunal of cassation, and the commissioners belonging to that tribunal, are taken from the national list.

68. The justices, except the justices of peace, remain in office for life, unless they should be condemned to forfeit their places, or should not be continued on the list of eligibles corresponding with their functions.

Footnote: About £21,000 sterling.

CHAPTER VI.

Of the responsibility of the Public Functionaries.

69. The Functions of members, whether of the senate or of the legislative body, or of the tribunate, and also those of the consuls or counsellors of state, do not discharge them from responsibility.

70. Personal crimes, to which are annexed corporal or infamous punishment, committed by a member either of the senate, tribunate, legislative body, or of the council of state, are prosecuted before the ordinary tribunals, after a deliberation of the body to which the person charged belongs, has authorised such prosecution.

71. The ministers arraigned, in their private capacity, of crimes to which are annexed corporal or infamous punishment, are considered as members of the council of state.

72. The ministers are responsible—1st for every act of government signed by them, and declared unconstitutional by the senate; 2d, for the non-execution of the laws, and of the regulations of the public administration; 3d, for the particular orders which they have given, if these orders are contrary to the constitution, the laws, and ordinances.

73. In the several cases of the preceeding article, the tribunate denounces the minister by an act on which the legislative body deliberates in ordinary form, after having heard or summoned the person denounced. The minister placed in a course of judgment is tried by a high court, without appeal or resource, for a reversal.

74. The judges, civil and criminal, for crimes relating to their functions, are prosecuted before the tribunals to which the tribunal of cassation sends them, after having annulled their acts.

75. The agents of government, other than the ministers, cannot be prosecuted for acts relating to their fuctions, but by virtue of a decision of the council of state, in this case the prosecution is carried on before the ordinary tribunals.

CHAPTER VII.

General Dispositions.

76. The house of every person inhabiting the French territory is an inviolable asylum.

During the night no person has a right to enter it, except in case of fire, inundation, at the request of the persons within.

In the day one may enter it for the special purpose, determined either by the law, or an order emanating from a public authority.

77. In order that the act which ordains the arrest of a person may be executed, it is necessary, 1st, that it express in form the causes for such arrest, and the law, in execution of which it is ordered; 2dly, that it issues from a functionary to whom the law has formerly given that power; 3dly, that it be notified to the person arrested, and a copy of it left with him.

78. No keeper or goaler can receive or detain any person without having first transcribed on his register the act ordering his arrest. This act must be a mandate, given in the forms prescribed by the preceding article, or a warrant for taking the body, or a decree of accusation, or a judgement.

79. Every keeper or goaler is bound, without any order being able to dispense with it, to represent the person in his custody to the civil officer having the police of the house of detention, whenever this officer shall demand such account.

80. A representation of a person in custody shall not be refused to his parents and friends, carrying an order from the civil officer, who shall be obliged always to grant it, unless the keeper or goaler produces an order of a judge to keep the prisoner secret.

81. All those who not being vested by the law with the power of arresting, shall give, sign, or execute the arrest of any person whatever; all those who, even in the case of arrest authorised by law, shall receive or detain the person arrested in a place of confinement not publicly and legally designated as such; and all keepers or goalers who shall act contrary to the dispositions of the three preceding articles, shall be guilty of arbitrary detention.

82. All severities used in arrest, detentions, or executions other than those commanded by the law, are crimes.

83. Every person has a right of addressing private petitions to every constituted authority, and particular to the tribunate.

84. The public force is necessarily in a state of obedience; no armed body can deliberate.

85. Military crimes are subjected to special tribunals and particularly forms of judgment.

86 the French nation declares that it will grant pensions to all the military wounded in defence of their country, and also to the widows and children of such military as have died on the field of battle, or in consequence of their wounds.

87. It shall decree national rewards to the warriors, who shall have rendered distinguished services in fighting for the Republic.

88. A constituted body cannot deliberate except in sitting, at which two thirds of its members, at least, are present.

89. A national institute is charged with receiving discoveries, and pefecting the arts and sciences.

90. A committee of national comptabilite regulates and verifies the accounts of the receipts and expences of the republic. This committee is composed of seven members, chosen by the Senate from the national list.

91. The regime of the French colonies is determined by special laws.

92. In case of the revolt of an armed body, of troubles which menace the safety of the State the law may suspend in the places and for the time it determines, the empire of the constitution.

The suspension may be provisionally declared in the same cases, by an arrette of Government, the legislative body not being sitting, provided this body be convened at a very short term by an article of the same arrette.

23. the French nation declares, that in no case will it suffer the return of the French who, having abandoned their country since 1789 are not comprised in the exceptions contained in the laws against emigrants. It interdicts every new exception on this point.

The property of emigrants irrevocably belong to the republic.

94. The French nation declares that after a sale legally completed of national property whatever may be its origin, the lawful purchase cannot be dispossessed, saving the right of third persons, if such there should be, claiming to be indemnified out of the public treasury.

95. The present constitution shall be offered forthwith, for the acceptance of the French Republic.

Done at Paris the twenty-second Firmaire, (December 13) in the eighth year of the French Republic, one and indivisible.

(The signatures of the members of the legislative committees and consul follows.)

PARIS December 15.

The three Consuls were named the day before yesterday by the two Commissioners. Buonaparte was unanimously appointed first Consul. Cambeceres and Lebrun had each 21 votes. The Consuls, and five persons who are to assist them, met last night to appoint the Conservaters to the number of 60. These 60 will elect the Tribunes and Senators. The Consuls appoint the Ministers and the 30 Counsellors of State.

General Kilmaine is dead.

The new constitution was published yesterday at Paris with much pomp.

December 16.

This day all the troops composing the 17th division assembled in the Camp de Mars to take the oath to the new Constitution.

December 18.

The Constitution does not prevent the first Consul from taking the command of the armies. Thus it is said that if Buonaparte does not this winter induce Austria to make peace, his intention is in the spring to put himself at the head of the armies to sign a peace in the heart of Germany.

The American Ambassadors, who have been appointed to negociate with France, have just landed at Lisbon, from whence they will proceed to Paris.

The registers of acceptance and non acceptance are opened at Paris. The confluence is prodigious, and the whole of the votes almost are in favour of the new Constitution.

December 20.

It has been insinuated that the registers will one day serve for lists of proscription; but we hear they are to be burnt as soon as the numbers are known.

It appears from the speeches of the King of Prussia to Duroc, as well as from different reports from Constantinople, that the Porte has altogether given up Egypt.

The Helvetic government is about to experience a change necessary to disappoint projects unfavourable to the independence and unity of that republic.

Three hundred and twenty members of the council of Five Hundred have accepted and signed the new Constitution; which considering the number of deputies excluded, and those on mission, makes upwards of seven eights of what remain.

It is believed that the members of the Conservative Senate hitherto elected are 30.

INDIAN ERUDITION.

It muſt afford a pleaſing reflection to every liberal mind to find that the attempts to civilize and inſtruct the Indian tribes in the ſouth weſtern quarter of the United States, have at length ſucceeded, and that the unfortunate Ab-origines have at length ſomething more to boaſt of than the acquiſition of the mere vices of their white neighbors. Indeed the ſtudy of hiſtory and the writing it too, muſt have been for ſome time practiced among the Indians. Since we have the beſt authority (no leſs than that of the hon. Mr. Cocke a member of the ſenate from the ſtate of Tenneſſee delivered in his place in yeſterday's debate) for ſaying that an author of the name of Dio-Caſſus* (he did not mention of what nation or tribe the author was) has written the hiſtory of a moſt unmerciful and bloody tyrant the Emperor called Cattogolli; but he did not mention ever what nation or tract of country he reigned; who wrote his laws in ſuch ſmall characters and placed them on ſuch high pillars as to render them not legible by the people. Tis, we muſt own, the firſt inſtance we have met with of Nations of Indians being capable of reading, or their rulers of writing their laws. The public, no doubt, will be highly gratified by the production of the works of Dio-Caſſus, and particularly of that part which relates to the reign of the wicked monſter Cattagolli.

* It is true that Mr. Cocke did not expreſsly ſay this was an Indian author, but as there is no mention either in ancient or modern hiſtory of the author Dio-Caſſus, or the Emperor Cattagolli, they muſt be of the Indian Tribes in the gentleman's neighborhood, perhaps the warriors of the Seminotes.

COMMUNICATION.

The productions of genius, eloquence and feeling, which a late melancholy event, has called forth, will no doubt become the ſubject of fair and rigid criticiſm:—It will be a pleaſing and uſeful undertaking, to ſelect their beauties, compare their merits, and claſs them in the juſt order of precedence: perhaps no ſpecies of compoſition is attended with more difficulties:—the Eulogiſt, who can give novelty, or add new conceptions, in diſplaying perſonal virtues, muſt poſſeſs uncommon powers—for what can now be ſaid, which has not been repeated an hundred times of heroes, ſtateſmen, philoſophers, and ſaints, in ages paſt?—Several very beautiful Orations have already made their appearance: but to thoſe who are converſant in this kind of reading; many of them can boaſt of little originality:—That pronounced at Trenton on the 14th of February, by Doctor Smith, Preſident of Princeton College—for gracefulneſs of diſtribution and comprehenſion of ſubject, for fine imagination, and brilliant expreſſions, as yet has no competitor: there is to be found in moſt of the others, neatneſs, and in ſome force of thought; but this ſeems to unite beauty with ſublimity, and elegance with truth.

The vaſt pleaſure which it has afforded me, and the deſire I feel that ſo fine an effort of a great mind, may be univerſally read and enjoyed, demands this tribute from one of your ſubſcribers.

PHILOSOPHERS ATTEND.

In this new country numbers of people are engaged in procuring good and ſufficient water to their cities, towns and villages by conduits. Any gentleman who can give proper information on this head upon experimental philoſophy through the channel of this paper, will give great pleaſure to numbers of aqueduct companies, and exceedingly oblige the community in general, by philoſophically and experimentally anſwering the following queſtions.

1. What timber is moſt durable of a 3 or 2½ inch bore, pine, oak or elm laid under ground 3 feet, the tube always kept full of water.

2. Is there any difference in timber always water ſoaked, between heart and ſap—Is the leaſt or moſt porous wood, hard, or ſoft, beſt for the purpoſe?

3. Will the ſinking the conduit in the ground 3 feet in ſand, gravel, or clay, be ſufficient; and in what covering will it prove moſt laſting?

4. What diameter ought the logs to be at their ſmall end, having the above bore, to bear a fountain of 50 feet fall?

It is hoped ſome of the experimental philoſophers from Europe may be in this country who underſtand the ſpecies and durability of woods aforeſaid, and will anſwer the above queries. We do not wiſh any thing from mere theoriſts or ſuppoſitioniſts, unleſs their theories or ſuppoſitions are maintained by experiments and their ſcholia ſupported by mathematical demonſtrations.

WILLIAM COBBETT

TAKES this method of apprizing thoſe perſons who left books with him (in the philanthropic city of Philadelphia) to be ſold on commiſſion, that the part of their property which remained unſold on the 20th of December laſt, was attached, in the hands of Mr. John Morgan, at the ſuit of one Ruſh, treaſurer of the Mint, and inventor of the famous mercurial purging powders. And he further informs the owners of the ſaid property, ſo attached by the ſaid treaſurer of the Mint, that, unleſs they, or their repreſentatives, come forward and replevy the ſaid property, on or before the return of the ſame is made to the Supreme Court of Pennſylvania, the ſaid property will be liable to be ſold for the benefit of the ſaid Ruſh, in part payment of the famous 5000 dollars, lately awarded to the ſaid treaſurer and powder inventor, by a Philadelphian jury.—And, that the parties concerned may not be at a loſs to know what they ought to claim, a liſt of their names and alſo of the ſeveral articles attached as aforeſaid, is hereunto ſubjoined; to wit:

1. WILLIAM SMITH, ESQ. American Ambaſſador at the Court of Portugal, is informed that eight copies of his work on the American Conſtitutions, are in jeopardy, as above mentioned; and alſo a large bundle of his detection of Jefferſon, and his defence of the character and conduct of John Adams!—When Mr. Smith was taking ſo much pains in making this defence, he little imagined that its circulation was to be put a ſtop to by an attachment on the part of a man appointed to a ſat office by Mr. Adams!

2. A perſon whom I have forgotten is requeſted to replevy a dozen or two of copperplate heads of John Adams!—Theſe are very valuable. They will, in a few years time, be regarded as precious as the hairs of Julius Cæſar. I much wiſh, therefore, that the treaſurer of the Mint may not yet have an opportunity of expoſing them for ſale among the profane vulgar

3. SAMUEL HARRISON SMITH is told to replevy, or to let it alone, juſt which he pleaſes, 38 magazines, ſent for him and received by me, from Meſſrs. Pritchard and Davidſon of Richmond, Virginia.—Thoſe if ſold for their real worth, would fetch about a penny a ſcore.

4. ROBERT FIELD is told to replevy 35 caricatures of Talleyrand & Co. coloured.

5. Some one whom I have forgotten will pleaſe to claim 13 Sermons to the Jews.

6. Mr. Campbell (the author) will claim 8 Soldier's Companion.

7. Poor Mrs. Pepper will pleaſe to claim 16 copies of her huſband's poems.

8. Mr. Uſtick will claim 12 Age of Credulity.

9. Mr. Ormrod will claim 2 vols. of Bache's infernal Gazette.

10. Some one whom I have forgotten will claim a volume of Ofwald's paper.

11. Some one whom I have forgotten will claim 11 copies of appeal to matter of fact and Common Senſe.

12. Mr. Henfrey will pleaſe to claim 13 copies of a plan for working mines.

13. The author will claim 20 copies of the Houſe of Wiſdom in a buſtle; or the ſpitting in Congreſs, a Poem.

14. The author will claim 11 eſſays on the Yellow Fever in Baltimore.

15. Monſieur La Grange will claim 3 vols. d'un Journal Durant un ſejour en France.

16. Any body that pleaſes may claim a bundle of the addreſs of the Virginia Minority about Alien and Sedition Bills

17. Robert Goodloe Harper may claim, if he likes, two or three books ſent to him, thro' me, from a gentleman in London.

18. Thomas B. Janſon of New-York will claim a bundle of Poems.

19. Mr. Charleton will pleaſe to claim 10 copies of thoughts on the 2 witneſſes.

20. Mr. James Humphreys will claim a bundle of the Coal Black Maid, Secret Tribunal, and Burke's letter to the Duke of Portland.

21. The author will claim 22 copies of Gurney's Brachmgraphy improved—6 do bound.

22. The publiſher will claim 4 politicians, a a tragi-comi-republico-farce.

23. The author, Mr. Trumbull, will claim a bundle of his viſit to Philadelphia Priſon; but, if the Treaſurer of the Mint ſhould happen to ſell them, Mr. T. may eaſily ſupply the loſs by reading the much truer and more entertaining viſit of Patrick Lyon.

FOR SALE,

A VALUABLE TRACT OF

LAND,

LYING on the Potomac River, county of Northumberland, ſtate of Virginia; containing about 1400 acres—its ſituation is equal to any other in the Northern Neck, remarkable for every kind of wild fowl, oyſters, fiſh and crab, and none better for health. It is about the ſame diſtance from Baltimore, Alexandria and Norfolk, and not more than one days ſail from either. There are three improved plantations with dwelling houſes, the one known by the name of Exeter Lodge, formerly the reſidence of col. John Gordon, is an elegant two ſtory brick houſe, with four rooms on a floor, and a paſſage ſixteen feet wide.

The other two are commodious and conveniently fitted, with good and ſuitable out houſes, at one of which John Murphy, Eſq. (now of Weſtmoreland county) lived ſeveral years; on this farm there is a good griſt mill, with water ſufficient to turn any number of ſtones; alſo convenient ſtore houſes and granaries on a public road, well ſituated for a country ſtore. On each of thoſe places there are fine apple and peach orchards. The greater proportion of the land is of the firſt quality, and near the half of the whole heavily timbered. The terms may be known by applying to Wm. P. Tebbs Baltimore, Fouſhee G. Tebbs, eſq. of Richmond county, Virginia, or to Thomas Murgatroyd and Sons, Philadelphia.

WATER-OFFICE.

Centre Square, Febeuary 5, 1800.

IN compliance with the instructions of the Committee for watering the city, and with my own inclinations, every possible admittance and information has been given to those citizens who have visited the Works during their progress. The Engines are now arrived, and are immediately to be put up, and it is hoped that it will be thought reasonable and just, both to the Public, and to the Contractor for the Engines, that the workmen should not be interrupted. As a very few months will fully gratify the curiosity of the citizens, by shewing them the Engines in full operation, a temporary exclusion of all visitors from the Engine houses cannot appear improper.

A SEASONABLE ARTICLE.

JUST RECEIVED,

AND FOR SALE

By WILLIAM Y. BIRCH,

STATIONER,

No. 17 South Second Street,

HAMILTON's ELIXIR,

A SOVEREIGN REMEDY

For Colds, obstinate Coughs, Catarrhs, Asthmas, Sore-throats, and approaching Consumptions.

THOUSANDS are too well acquainted with the nature and effects of empirical medicines daily offered for the cure of the above complaints; dear bought experience has taught them that oily and heating medicines joined with strong opiates (or sleepy drugs) repeated doses of which, flatter and deceive the patient for the present, by procuring momentary ease; experience, I say, has taught thousands that the common opiates and balsams, as they are called, finally aggravate every disorder of the breast and lungs in their most distressing symptoms; that they load the stomach and impair the digestion, inflame the whole system, increase the difficulty of breathing, and excite fever.—But the qualities of this valuable discovery are evinced by perfectly opposite effects. A SINGLE TRIAL WILL PROVE that it restores the determination of the fluids to the surface of the body, and brings on the common, healthful perspiration; that it dislodges and evacuates the tough, viscid phlegm, or mucus, strengthens the weakened vessels of the lungs, sheathes the acrimonious humours which irritate the lungs, and finally discharges them. Thus striking at the root of the disorder, the symptoms are of course, effectually and permanently conquered, the reverse of common medicines, which weaken the constitution and give strength to the disorder, for the sake of moderating for the present, some of its painful effects.

TO PARENTS

Who may have Children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH.

This discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable; the Elixir is so perfectly agreeable and the dose so small, that no difficulty arises in taking it.

DR. HAMILTON's

Genuine Essence and Extract of

MUSTARD.

For Rheumatisms, Gout, Palsey, Sprains, &c. a great number of attested cures may be seen at the place of sale. Dr. Hamilton's Grand Restorative for constitutions debilitated by intemperance of any kind; and for the cure of Nervous Complaints, Inward Weakness, Obstinate Gleets, Fluor Albus in women, &c.

Hamilton's justly celebrated Worm Lozenges, the infallible Itch Ointment, Dr. Leroux's Indian Vegetable Specific for Venereal Complaints, Ague and Fever Drops which had never failed effecting a cure, Dr. Hahn's Antibilious Pill, ditto Corn Plaister, the Persian Lotion for the face and skin, Gowland's Lotion, Church's Cough Drops, Anderson's Pills

THE DAMASK LIP SALVE

Is recommended (particularly to the Ladies) as an elegant and pleasant preparation for chopped and sore lips, and every blemish and inconvenience occasioned by colds, fevers, &c. speedily restoring a beautiful rosy colour and delicate softness to the lips.

THE RESTORATIVE POWDER

FOR THE TEETH AND GUMS.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, absorbing all that acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

☞ Those who wish to procure the medicines genuine, must apply ONLY as above.

Wholesale purchasers will receive a liberal allowance by application to LEE & Co. Baltimore, who have obtained the general agency for the United States.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

March 11th, 1799.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, Pursuant to the act of Congress passed on the 1st day of June, one thousand, seven hundred and ninety six, entitled "an act regulating the grants of land appropriated for military services, and for the society of United Brethren for propagating the gospel among the Heathen;" and the act supplementary to the said recited act passed on the second day of March, one thousand seven hundred and ninetynine——to wit:

I.

THAT the tract of Land herein after described, namely, "beginning at the North West corner of the seven ranges of townships, and running thence fifty miles due south, along the western boundary of the said ranges;—thence due West to the Main Branch of the Scioto river; thence up the Main Branch of the said river to the place where the Indian boundary line crosses the same;—thence along the said boundary line to the Tuscaroras branch of the Muskingum river at the crossing place above Fort Lawrence; thence down the said river, to the point where a line run due west from the place of beginning, will intersect the said river; thence along the line so run to the place of beginning;" has been divided into townships of five miles square, and fractional parts of townships; and that plats and surveys of the said townships and fractional parts of townships are deposited in the offices of the Register of the Treasury and Surveyor General, for the inspection of all persons concerned.

II.

The holders of such warrants as have been or shall be granted for military services performed during the late war, are required to present the same to the Register of the Treasury, at some time prior to the twelfth day of February in the year, one thousand eight hundred, for the purpose of being registered; No registry will however be made of any less quantity than a quarter township, or four thousand acres.

III.

The priority of location of the warrants which may be presented and registered in manner aforesaid, prior to the 12th day of February in the year one thousand eight hundred, will immediately after the said day, be determined by lot, in the mode dreserибed by the act first recited.

IV.

The holders of registered warrants, shall on Monday the 17th day of February, in the year 1800, in the order of which the priority of location shall be determined by lot as aforesaid, personally, or by their agents, designate in writing at the office of the Register of the Treasury, the particular quarter townships elected by them respectively, and such of the said holders as shall not designate their locations on the said day, shall be postponed in locating such warrants to all other holders of registered warrants.

V.

The holders of warrants for military services sufficient to cover one or more quarter townships or tracts of four thousand acres each; shall, at any time after Monday the 17th day of February, 1800 and prior to the first day of January, 1802, be allowed to register the said warrants in manner aforesaid, and forthwith to make locations therefor on any tract or tracts of land not before located.

VI.

All warrants or claims for lands on account of military services, which shall not be registered and located before the first day of January, 1802, are by the supplementary act of Congress herein before recited, passed on the second day of March, 1799, declared to be forever barred.

Given under my hand at Philadelphia, the day and year above mentioned.

OLIVER WOLCOTT.
Sec. of the Treasury.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

May 29th, 1799.

THE proprietors of certificates issued for subscriptions to the Loan bearing interest at eight per centum per annum, are notified, that at any time after payment shall have been made of the 5th instalment, which will become due during the first ten days of the month of July ensuing, Certificates of Funded Stock may at their option be obtained at the Treasury or Loan Offices, respectively, for the amount of the four first instalments, or one moiety of the sums expressed in the subscription certificates:—No certificates of Funded Stock will however be issued for less than one hundred dollars.

Such subscription certificates as may be presented at the Treasury or Loan Offices in consequence of the foregoing arrangement, will be indorsed and distinctly marked so as to denote, that a moety of the stock has been issued.
